

RESUME

Personal note : See the post smile Indian kid picture to the right? That would be me. I am Krishna Sachin katari. I started working on the web and videos many years ago. Since then, I have been creating clean, elegant, and creative videos and designs for the clients. I have learned and worked on many things from video effects and animations to graphics and web design.

Though I am graduate in information technology, my passion dragged me to this creative field. Through my experience on the internet, i have come to meet some of the most talented people, who taught me much. When I design, I always try to be unique and push the boundaries. Check out my portfolio, or if you are really interested, head over to the contact area and shoot me an email.
